TWO SHOCKING CRIMES

Mysterious Murders of Man and a Woman on Streets of Detroit.

SORRY PLIGHT OF MUSIC TEACHER.

When Asked by the Police to Explain About Blood on His Clothes, Prof. James Miller Faints Away.

Detroit, April 10.—The girl who was horribly murdered was identified as Carrie M. Jennett, of 1191 Wabash avenue, a daughter of James R. Jennett, a cabinet maker. Miss Jennett attended a meeting of a Rebekah lodge in a hall not far from where she was so brutally murdered. She left there about 10:05 p.m. Less than two hours later her body was found.

When the police learned that Prof. James Miller and Miss Jennett had been well acquainted, and that he had given her music lessons, Captain Baker went to his house. Miller took the announcement of the girl's death coolly and asked no questions regarding the murder. Captain Baker finally decided to take him into custody. When placed in the sweat box at the police station, he had himself under control and said very little. He exhibited no emotion. The officers then asked him to take off his coat and vest and then one of the most dramatic events known to the police took place.

With great reluctance the music teacher removed the garments. The officers took off his celluloid cuffs and rolled up the wrist bands of his white shirt. One the inside of these were found blood stains and when it stood revealed, the policemen and detectives looked up to Miller for an explanation. The unhappy man turned deadly white and fell on the floor in a fainting fit. He was restored to consciousness and then led to a cell, on the way to which he fainted again.

Blood stains were also found on his trousers. Some were found on his overcoat and more on his hat. The hat, a derby, had evidently been washed, but not sufficiently, as blood crystals were positively identified. Captain Baker went into the cell with him after he had recovered somewhat from his fainting condition and spoke to him. Miller was seated, but looked up quickly and said "I know nothing about the matter."

In the sweat box Miller claimed that he attended a meeting of the Wolverine circle, an insurance organization, and that he left about 11 o'clock. If true, this would be a sufficient alibi, for the murder took place at 11 o'clock or a few minutes later.

William Duart is merely held as a possibly valuable witness, the police say, and not as a suspect.

An autopsy revealed the fact that within three or four months the girl would have become a mother. It also furnished many evidences of the brutality with which the poor girl was murdered. In addition to the other ghastly wounds on her head, her neck had been broken.

A Second Murder.

Professor Miller, who is under arrest on suspicion of being the girl's murderer, left his house, according to his wife, at 8 p.m., saying he was going to a lodge meeting. At 11:20 p.m., according to his wife, he returned, apparently cool and collected.

Another mysterious murder occurred at an early hour, the victim being George W. Haywood, bookkeeper and paymaster at the Malleable works. His body was found lying on the sidewalk on Junction avenue, a short distance from his home on Amherst street about 5:30 a.m. His head was badly pounded and there is a bad cut over the left eye.

Haywood attended a dance at Baker hall. His wife had intended to accompany him, but was ill and gave it up. It is not known what time he started for home, but he was found within 100 yards of his home and had evidently been dead some hours.

As her husband did not return during the night, Mrs. Haywood was very much alarmed and arising early she sent her oldest boy, Earl, aged 12, out to see if he could find any trace of his father. The little chap had gone but a short distance from the house when he discovered the lifeless remains of the parent. The police were notified and the body was removed to the morgue and placed beside the remains of Miss Jennett, who had also been murdered, but a few hours previous. An examination of Haywood's body and clothes showed that robbery was not the motive. There was but one wound, evidently made with a heavy blunt instrument, and it penetrated the skull and left an ugly cut.

Detectives were immediately put to work on the case and they arrested

William F. Jones, a roomer in Haywood's house. The two men are said to have quarreled frequently. About 75 feet from where the body was found a revolver lay in the alley. The little Haywood boy identified it as belonging to Jones, and said he had seen it in his room. Whether it caused the wound is the question which the police will fathom. At the station Jones was examined as to his relations with the Haywood family. He said his home was in Lincoln, Neb., where he has a wife and three children. He said he first became acquainted with the Haywood family about five years ago when he went to the house one day to mend a gasoline stove for them. He has been boarding there since last Friday

THE HILTON ESTATE.

Executors to Mrs. Hilton Not Entitled to Remainder of $25,000.

New York, April 10.—Henry Hilton, lawyer and judge, who was an intimate friend of A. T. Stewart and his wife and inherited a portion of their fortune, executed his will two years before his death in 1899, making disposition of an estate estimated at between $6,000,000 and $7,000,000. His executors found the will so complicated a character that they had to ask the supreme court to construe certain points. Judge Scott has just rendered his decision.

By his will Mr. Hilton gave $50,000 each to his children, except Henry G., or his wife, for whom the executors were authorized to set aside $25,000 to make payments from the sum in their discretion. They elected to hold this money for Mrs. Hilton and made several payments to her prior to her death. Her executors then presented a claim for the remained of the $25,000 as belonging to her estate, but Judge Scott holds that this contention cannot be sustained, as the fund was not given to Mrs. Hilton, but was left with the executors in their discretion. This is thought to end the famous contest.

Potomac Rising.

Cumberland, Md., April 10.—The Potomac is rising, although not rapidly, as the snow is melting slowly. The river is about 15 feet above low water mark. Such a volume of snow so late in the season has never before been known, and the worst is feared when it commences to go off with a rush. The Blackwater and Cheat rivers have overflowed their banks, inundating considerable farming land and destroying a large amount of property. Snow has fallen at Fairfax, W. Va., to a depth of 32 inches. A large landslide occurred on the West Virginia Central and Pittsburgh railroad at Copperas rock.

Shortage of Meat.

Liverpool, April 10.—The rise in the price of meat here is attributed more to the prohibition of Canadian and Argentine cattle than to the operations of the American beef combination.

During the first quarter of this year more than 8,000 fewer cattle were imported through Liverpool than during the corresponding period of 1901, and the South American dead meat trade has failed to compensate for this shortage. The butchers' association and the association of foreign cattle traders aver that the scarcity in meat will increase.

Patrick Finn Arrested.

Cleveland, April 10.—The federal authorities have made several additional arrests in connection with the naturalization frauds. Patrick Finn, deputy superintendent of streets, was arrested for assisting and procuring and abetting in the granting of naturalization papers to a number of foreigners. Finn was released on $3,000 bail.

Tally Cheat Forgery Charged.

Columbus, O., April 10.—Hon. John J. Lentz has had the tally book in precinct B, Seventeenth ward photographed, charging forgery by adding five tallies. Shaw (Rep.) was elected over Ward (Dem.) by two votes, but it is claimed more tallies were recorded than were voters registered in the ward.

Old Counterfeiter Identified.

Baltimore, April 10.—United States secret officers have identified as John Mulvay, a man who was arrested here several days ago for passing counterfeit money, and who said his name was John Clary. Mulvay is said to be an old offender who has served terms in Joliet and other prisons for counterfeiting.

Mr. Bromwell Will Retire.

Washington, April 10.—Representative Bromwell of the Second Ohio district announced that he would not be a candidate for re-election. Mr. Bromwell is serving his fifth term in the house.

London, April 10—J. Pierpont Morgan, who arrived on the Oceanic, refused to be interviewed at Huston station. He was met by his son.

KNOW TERMS OF PEACE

Representatives of the Boer Government Find a Meeting Place.

GENERAL DEWET AND DELAREY

Are Expected to Be Present and Take Part in the Deliberations of the Civil Authorities.

Pretoria, April 10.—President Steyn of the Orange Free State, Secretary of State Reitz of the Transvaal, Acting President Schalk-Burger of the Transvaal and General Lucas Mayer, commander-in-chief of the Orange Free State forces, passed through Kroonstad, Orange Free State, Sunday, April 6, on their way to Klerksdorp, Southwestern Transvaal, where General Botha, the Transvaal commander-in-chief arrived Monday, April 7. It was expected that Generals Dewet and Delarey would attend the conference to take place there. It is understood that the Boer leaders are fully possessed of the British peace terms and that the conference then assembling was to enable the leaders to thoroughly discuss these terms. It is expected that the final decision of the burghers will shortly be made known.

Waiting For Boer Generals.
London, April 10.—The London Times publishes a dispatch from Klerksdorp announcing that Acting President Schalk-Burger and other members of the Boer government arrived there by train April 6 and that messages were sent inviting President Steyn and General Delarey to come in and meet them. While awaiting a reply General Schalk-Burger and his party were occupying a hotel which had been reserved for their use here.

Had Plenty of Cash.

New York, April 10.—Tenderhearted persons in the Harlem police court were shocked when Francisco Gorgia, an aged, shrivelled and miserly looking Italian organ grinder was fined $50 for begging. The white-haired old man looked appealingly about the room and from long habit put his hand out, but, quickly recovering himself, and glancing uneasily at the magistrate, he brought forth a grimy old bag and counted out pennies, nickels, dimes and quarters until he had paid his fine. Then he paid $5 also in small change to his lawyer. By this time a crowd was about him. To the astonishment of the court attaches and dismay of those who had sympathized with him he produced a package containing $150 in bills and a bank book on the bank of Rome, Italy, showing he had $12,000 on deposit there. Gorgia, who is 60, says he will retire from business.

Bloody Conflicts.
Brussels, April 10.—Repeated charges of police and mounted gendarmes with drawn sabres, resulted in the dispersal of the riot mobs here. During the rioting one policeman was shot through the body and face. His comrades, having exhausted their ammunition, fled and the wounded man was overwhelmed, kicked and stoned. Another policeman sought refuge in the attic of a cafe, whereupon the Socialists sacked the establishment, exploded a lamp which set fire to the building and completed its ruin.

With the President.
Summerville, S. C., April 10.—The president and members of his party were given an opportunity to follow their own inclinations with respect to the disposition of their time. No formal program had been arranged beyond a visit to the tea farm, a short distance from the inn. Secretary Wilson will not return to Washington with the president, having decided to make a short visit to southern Georgia, Florida and Alabama. The party left here at 2 p.m. for Washington.

Plague of Locusts.
Indianapolis, April 10.—State Geologist Blachley says that Indiana, Illinois, Ohio and Kentucky will be infested with the 17-year locust plague this summer, and that Indiana will have more locusts than all the other central states put together. The last appearance of the insects in Indiana was in 1885. They are expected to make their appearance about May 1.

Pension For Mrs McKinley.
Washington, April 10.—The house committee on pensions made a favorable report upon the senate bill granting a pension of $5,000 per annum to the widow of the late President McKinley.

Arrived in New York.
New York, April 10.—The steamer Deutschland, among whose passengers are M. Santos-Dumont, the aeronaut, and Miss Ellen M. Stone, the missionary, arrived here.

GARDNER'S REPORT.

Governor of One of Philippine Provinces Details Outrages.

Washington, April 10.—When the senate committee on the Philippines met, Senator Lodge, chairman of the committee, laid before the committee the report of Major Cornelius Gardner, civil governor of the Philippine province of Tayabas, to which reference was made by General Miles in his correspondence with Secretary Root. This report had been withheld and this caused the adoption of a resolution at the last meeting of the committee requesting the secretary of war to send the report to the committee.

The report is dated Dec. 16, 1901, and is largely a review of conditions in the province and tells what was done in the way of a campaign against the insurgents.

In the course of the report the governor says. "A vigorous campaign was at once organized against insurgents in arms with the troops acting under positive orders to shoot unarmed natives and to burn no houses. Looting was prohibited under the strictest penalties. Company and other commanders were ordered to pay for everything taken for necessity or bought from natives."

The governor in detail tells about what has been done and then recommends that the operations against the insurgents should be by force of natives. He has traveled all over the province with no escort other than natives. In another recommendation he says: "As civil governor I feel it my duty to say that it is my firm conviction that the United States troops should at the earliest opportunity be concentrated in one or two garrisons, if it is thought desirable that the good sentiment and loyalty that formerly existed to the United States among the people of this province should be conveyed and encouraged. Being in close touch with the people, having visited all the pueblos one or more times, having lived with them in their homes, I know that such a sentiment once existed. Of late, by reason of the conduct of troops such as the extensive burning of the barrios in trying to lay waste the country so that the insurgents cannot occupy it, the torturing of natives by so-called water cures and other methods to obtain information, the harsh treatment of natives generally and the failure of inexperienced, lately appointed lieutenants commanding posts, to distinguish between those who are friendly and those unfriendly and to treat every native as if he were, whether or not, an insurrecto at heart, this favorable sentiment above referred to, is being fast destroyed and a deep hatred toward us engendered. If these things are done they had best be done by native troops so that the people of the United States will not be credited therewith. Almost without exception soldiers and many officers refer to natives in their presence as 'niggers,' and natives are beginning to understand what the word 'nigger' means. The course now being pursued in this province and in the province of Batangas, Laguna and Samar is in my opinion sowing seeds for a perpetual revolution against us hereafter when a good opportunity offers. Under present conditions the political situation in this province is slowly retrograding and the American sentiment is decreasing and we are daily making permanent enemies. In the course above referred to, troops make no distinction often between the property of those natives who are insurgent or insurgent sympathizers and the property of those who heretofore have risked their lives by being loyal to the United States and giving us information against their countrymen in arms. Often every house in a barrio is burned."

Depew's Amendment.

Washington, April 10.—Soon after the senate convened Mr. Depew (N.Y.) offered an amendment to the resolution to provide for the election of senators by popular vote. The amendment was as follows: "The qualification of citizens entitled to vote for United States senators and representatives in congress shall be uniform in all the states and congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation and to provide for registration of citizens entitled to vote, the conduct of such elections and the certificate of the result." Mr. Depew addressed the senate in support of his amendment.

Grosvenor's Warning.

Washington, April 10.—Mr. Grosvenor warned the Republicans that the present tariff schedules could not exist forever. Irresistible demands for changes would be made, but this was not the time. It was not schedules, he said, but the protective principle for which the party stood. He warned the Republican opponents of the Cuban bill not to overrun the rulings of the chair and plunge the country into an agitation for revision of the tariff.

SCHEME OF TAXATION.

Senate Passes One of the State Administration Measures.

PENALTY OF DEATH FOR ASSAULT.

When the Victim Is a Girl Under Sixteen Years, Capital Punishment Shall Be Administered. Other Legislative News.

Columbus, O., April 10.—The senate discussed the administration taxation measures and passed the Willis bill, levying one-tenth of one per cent upon the outstanding stock of private corporations. The bill was passed by a strict party vote, 20 to 12, the Republicans voting as a unit for and the Democrats as a unit against the bill. It is estimated that it will net the state about $1,000,000.

These bills were introduced in the senate: Making the crime of assault punishable by death, where the victim is a girl under 16 years of age; the present penalty is life imprisonment; allowing building and loan associations to invest their surplus capital in government, state, county or municipal bonds; giving legislative consent, as required by the constitution, to the federal government to acquire land in Ohio for the purpose of erecting federal buildings. The bill was sent to Mr. Chamberlain, from Washington, and he was unable to explain what improvements are contemplated under the bill.

The senate passed the Royer bill prohibiting straw board companies from emptying its refuse into streams under a heavy penalty.

In the House.

The house of representatives was to have considered the Pugh-Kibler municipal code bill, but too much time was devoted to a discussion of the Archer fish and game commission bill. The bill was regarded much in the light of the regular game law and the bill was defeated.

A bill by Speaker McKinnon seeks to correct the defects in bond issues on the authority of special acts by former sessions of the legislatures. The speaker termed the bill as a "confidence" act, since it will restore confidence of investors in these bonds who have been more or less panic stricken by the agitation against special legislation.

The house landed hard on the Archer game bill when it was called up for discussion, a fusillade of amendments being proposed. The first important feature of the measure to go was the gun license. This section met with a relentless opposition from the farmers of the state, who claim that its operation would be a hardship upon them, since in order to hunt rabbits on an adjoining farm they would have to first secure a license, costing $1.25, including the clerk's fee. The city sportsmen as a rule are in favor of the license, since it creates a fund with which to prosecute cases of violations of law. Twenty-three other amendments were submitted and agreed to, and then the bill was postponed, to be considered as a special order next Tuesday. The opposition to the bill had things much its own way, and there are fears that the senate will refuse to concur in all the amendments.

The house also took up the Buell bill, extending the time of the terms of clerks of the county courts of the state, but the bill was not passed upon its passage. It was made a special order for Friday of this week. The substitute for the Cain bill was passed. This bill seeks to collect the Dow tax from houses of ill-fame and other resorts, and places the collection in the hands of the state dairy and food commissioner. Provisions are made for the protection of bona fide druggists. A resolution by Mr. Stage of Cuyahoga county authorizes the auditor of state to draw his warrant for $750 in favor of Mrs. Otto Janson, widow of the Cuyahoga county representative, who died recently.

Wynne Accepts.

Washington, April 10.—Robert J. Wynne, the Washington correspondent of the New York Press, has been offered, and accepted the office of first assistant postmaster general. The nomination will probably be submitted to the senate after the president's return from Charleston. The change will take effect May 1, or earlier, as W. M. Johnson of New Jersey, whom he succeeds, is anxious to retire as soon as possible.

Nippert's New Job.

Columbus, O., April 10.—Governor Nash announced he would appoint Lieutenant Governor Carl Nippert to succeed Judge Farris. As Lieutenant governor Nippert receives $800 per year, but as probate judge his fees will amount to about $12,000 per year.

April 11th, 1902—Fair and cooler to night. Saturday fair.

We can't say with certainty how it may seem to all the outsiders, but we undertake to aver with all assurance that to the "insiders," Powers, Youtsey and Howard, there's a tremendous sight in the case for which they are serving life sentences in the penitentiary.

COL. BRECKINRIDGE.

The gratifying announcement that this distinguished and eloquent gentleman will address the Confederate Veterans Association of Mason County, at the reunion in May, gives peculiar interest to the following notice of the last appearance of the brilliant orator before a popular audience in this city. Time has touched him gently and the portraiture still holds good. A little more silver in the hair, perhaps, but certainly not less in the glowing tongue:

Colonel Breckinridge was greeted at the court house on Thursday night last by one of the largest and most intelligent audiences ever assembled in this city. The fame of the orator had preceded him; and many were drawn by motives of curiosity to whom the political issues to be discussed were matters of comparative indifference. As the speaker entered the hall he was received with a round of hearty applause in which all present seemed to join; and as he ascended the steps of the platform there was a manifest desire to catch a glimpse of the famous Kentuckian who has done so much in the forum and on the stump to sustain and extend the reputation of his native State. The appearance of the speaker was singularly striking and impressive. An erect, manly figure; an easy bearing; a peculiarly intellectual mould of head and face; soft grey hair; dark, well-arched brows, and eyes luminous with intellect and passion—these are the personal characteristics of the distinguished gentleman as he appeared on Thursday night, and if one may judge from the effect produced upon that occasion by his powerful and persuasive oratory, he is gifted with every quality that is requisite for leadership in the affairs of a progressive and enlightened State. By universal acknowledgement he amply sustains the traditional reputation of his family for thorough culture, high breeding and graceful, easy and effective speech. Colonel B. is just in the prime of life and has before him a career of great usefulness and distinction.

The Breckinridges furnish a striking illustration of a theory which, under scientific auspices, is again becoming fashionable—the transmission of family characteristics. From the time of Jefferson's famous Attorney-General down to the present day, we have seen these Breckinridges modestly and gracefully stepping to the front in social and political life. Men of quiet, polished manners, of vigorous and well-trained intellects, united with fine personal graces of presence and of speech, who, without appearing to seek ho or preference in public life, have held their own for generation after generation and have been sought by the people as counsellors in every crisis. The present candidate for Congress in the Ashland district worthily sustains the reputation of his family in these respects. At all periods of his public and professional career, his appearance at a public meeting has been a signal for tumultuous applause, and there is not a Democratic ear in the Ashland district that has not known with ecstasy the charm of Breckinridge's eloquent voice.

KENTUCKY AT THE ST. LOUIS FAIR.

The movement to provide for an adequate representation of Kentucky at the St. Louis World's Fair should meet with hearty support from all public-spirited citizens. It is greatly to be regretted that the Legislature failed to make provisions for an exhibit, but what should have been done by the State can be done by private enterprise.

Kentuckians played a most conspicuous part in the events that led to the Louisiana purchase, which this exposition is to celebrate. Indeed, Kentuckians paved the way for this great expansion. It is, therefore, peculiarly fitting that the State should have adequate representation. Failure to provide a creditable exhibit would be most unfortunate.

The St. Louis Fair will certainly attract wide attention. It will afford an excellent opportunity for advertising Kentucky's industries, advantages and resources. The State has a chance to join the procession in the forward march of industrial progress.

As a matter of patriotism and State pride, we cannot afford to have Kentucky make a poor showing. As a matter of business, a creditable exhibit will be an excellent investment.—Louisville Post.

It's a matter of sincere regret that the members of the Legislature failed to realize the great importance of having the wonderful resources and advantages of Kentucky properly displayed at the St. Louis fair. Had they realized this, or had they considered for a moment the disastrous effect upon the future development of the State the failure to pro-

Time to Think of Carpets!

We cannot positively say we are not from time to time undersold in carpets. In fact people occasionally tell us they can buy the same carpets elsewhere for less money. As they usually end by buying here, in fact always, if they are carpet judges, we investigated the matter and found instead of the same carpet it was a similar style of carpet—adulterated. Now if there is one poor article you cannot afford to buy, it is a carpet, and the secret of our carpet business is that people appreciate the fact. If our best judgment could prevail we wouldn't handle cotton carpets because we know customers make an unwise investment when they buy them. But popular trade demands cotton carpets and we are obliged to have them. Therefore we get the very best possible for the money—first, to protect our carpet reputation, secondly, by advancing your interests to advertise our carpet store. Then we tell you exactly what to expect—a cotton carpet, a mixed carpet or an all wool. And there are fifty years of honest business to confirm our every statement. Anyone who cannot find what they want among our Roxbury Tapestries at 75c., Fine Worsted Axminsters at $1, Handsome Wilton Velvets at $1, Reliable Body Brussels at $1, Lowell Ingrains at 65c., Hartford Ingrains at 60c., Victoria Ingrains at 50c., Union Ingrains at 39c., Cotton Ingrains at 25c. surely do not want to buy a carpet at all.

MRS. R. B. BOULDEN.

Sudden Death of This Estimable Woman at Her Home in Millersburg Thursday Afternoon.

Mr. John W. Boulden received a telegram Thursday afternoon bringing the sad news of the death of Mrs. Carrie Boulden, wife of his brother Postmaster R. B. Boulden, of Millersburg. She had been ill only a few days. The end came at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Boulden was a daughter of the late James W. Conway, and was about forty-five years old. Her husband and two daughters, Misses Mary Louise and Annabelle, survive her. Mrs. Boulden leaves many relatives in Mason County, among them her cousins the Osborne family on Tuckahoe. She was a most estimable Christian woman, and the news of her sudden death will be learned with sincere sorrow.

The funeral will take place Saturday morning at Millersburg.

BOARD OF TRADE.

Many New Members Joining the Organization—Let All Unite and Push Maysville to the Front.

We are desirous of establishing the Board of Trade upon a firm basis. To this end we want 100 members who are sufficiently interested in Maysville to pay $2 a year and work for her commercial advancement. We believe you will need no urging to enlist in this club having only our city's welfare at heart. You know what it has done; by more business unity and zeal of the members it can do greater things. Subscribe your name and pay any of the following committee men: H. B. Owens, Frank H. Clarke, John C. Everett, T. A. Keith, J. B. Russell, M. F. Marsh, M. Merz, J. W. Fitzgerald, John M. Hunt, C. M. Phister, C. A. Walther, J. Edward Parker, or Harry C. Curran or John Duley, your dues and you will be given a membership ticket good for one year entitling you to all privileges.

Kindly act promptly in this matter as the annual election for members of the Board of Directors is set for April 15th at 7 o'clock p. m., and only those will be eligible to vote or to hold office who have paid their membership fee.

RIVER NEWS.

An independent Packet to Enter the Portsmouth Cincinnati Trade.

[Portsmouth Times.]

Captain Wilson, of Manchester, a steamboatman of many years experience, was in the city Tuesday in consultation with the local shippers with reference to putting an independent boat in the Portsmouth-Cincinnati trade. While no definite arrangements were made to that end, Captain Wilson assured the merchants and manufacturers here that he would submit a written proposition to them in the course of a week.

Years ago he ran the Handy in the Portsmouth-Manchester trade and the boat was in every sense what its name implied.

The intention is to have the boat, if it is secured, make tri-weekly trips on the time schedule adopted by the Boston and later by the Bonanza years ago. This was to leave here at 11 a. m. Monday, Wednesday and Friday, returning Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday and remaining here over Sunday.

There is every probability that the offer will be accepted and the chances are the boat will be put in commission about May 1st.

The Times was shown a letter to-day received by one of the largest shippers, from a venerable up-river Captain, who says in reply to an inquiry made of him that, while he is disposed to take a vacation from river duties, he would consent, if properly guaranteed, to put a boat in this trade. Should the proposition to be made by Captain Wilson not be satisfactory in every way and the boat he proposes to secure not such a one as will be suitable, then a proposition will be submitted to the up-river firm, which is known and recognized as perfectly reliable.

Papers at up-river points in speaking of the conference held here by the agents and shippers say the intention is to put in a Pomeroy-Cincinnati packet. This several local shippers say is not true for several reasons, one and the chief reason being that Portsmouth shippers are going to look out for Portsmouth trade.

The Portsmouth shippers not only objected to the excessive rates, but they made their appeal to headquarters, and invited the representatives here, held a conference in which their grievances were set forth. The shippers at other points, while kicking among themselves, never concentrated their efforts and consequently never accomplished anything.

The Charleston Daily Mail says: "The report of the river traffic on the Great Kanawha river for the month of March has been completed at the office of the United States Engineer in this city is an unusually good showing for that month. The following is the report in detail: Coal, bushels, 2,948,300; sawlogs and lumber, feet, b. m., 1,628,500; railroad cross ties, 28,000; staves, 60,000; hoop poles, 170,000; laths, 380,000; brick, 81,000; salt, barrels, 500; steamboats plying the trade, 182; loaded barges down, 228; empty barges up, 278; passengers on board, 2,025; miscellaneous freight, tons, 2,027."

Ten million feet of timber and hundreds of boat bottoms are ready to be brought out of the Allegheny River on the forthcoming rise.

A Fairy Spectacle.
There never was a book that pleased as Lewis Carroll's witty, dainty and com-parable "Alice in Wonderland" has done, and there never was an operetta that so deliciously delights the young and interests and warms and rejuvenates the older ones, as Hope Leonard's adaptation of the book to the uses of the stage.

"Alice in Wonderland," which will be presented to the public at the Washington Opera House soon, is one of the prettiest productions ever seen here, and best of all it will be presented by home talent exclusively. One hundred of the brightest children of the city will fill the roles. The costumes and properties are elaborate, and various songs, choruses, marches and specialties will be introduced. The entertainment promises to surpass anything of the kind that has ever been presented here.

Making a Bad Impression.
[Buffalo Courier.]

President Roosevelt is creating an im-pression on the American people which is distinctly unfavorable. His recent effort to straddle the Sampson-Schlie question was displeasing to both sides of the controversy and was clearly a cheap and unsuccessful play to the galleries. His attempt to force through Congress an army bill which would centralize military authority is an evidence of overweening desire for personal power—which is opposed to the spirit of our form of government. His unconcealed annoyance at the frank and truthful statements of General Miles before a Congressional committee shows his lamentable lack of con-servatism and the narrowness of his vision.

The English "Society for the Prevention of Consumption" presided over by the Prince of Wales, was recently addressed by Sir William Broadbent, who stated that it was definitely known that every case of consumption began with a germ communicated from some other case. There is no such thing as inherited con-sumption. There may be local weakness which tends to consumption, but the germ has absolutely to be planted in that weak spot before consumption can ensue. This ought to comfort thousands of people who have "weak chests" or "weak lungs." They are not foreordained victims of this dread disease. All that is needed to bid absolute defiance to this deadly scourge is to be able to strengthen the weak lungs, and build up a strong body. The answer to this need is found in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It so purifies the blood and increases the blood supply, that disease is thrown off, and the weak organs are nourished into perfect health, which defies germs of every kind. People, given up by doctors, emaciated, bleeding in the lungs, with obstinate, lingering coughs, are being cured every day by the use of "Golden Medical Discovery." It is a strictly temperance medicine containing no alcohol, whisky or other intoxicant.
